Wragg & Casas: Meeting your business needs

Content Development Create Your Message

Every audience – every issue – requires a customized blend of intelligently crafted content.

Whether for print and video news releases, whitepapers, websites, blogs, social media posts, business letters, speeches, newsletters or brochures, we will create content that suits your needs.

As a one-stop shop, we will take your content to the next level.

Media Relations Get the Word Out

Positive media relations is at the heart of many communications programs. Third-party credibility inherent in news coverage helps build your brand, gains public acceptance and good will, and boosts strategic objectives and sales.

Regular, ongoing publicity refines your brand message and strengthens your positive image.

Branding & Corporate Get the Look

A memorable and positive first impression makes you stand out from the crowd.

Our award-winning creative services team develops branding and corporate identity packages, including logos, brochures, websites, advertisements, banners, displays, sales kits and promotional items.

Digital & Social Media Work the Web

There's no one-size-fits-all digital and social media strategy, but the goal is the same – Attract. Engage. Convert.

Our social media strategies leverage both paid and earned media to maximize your visibility across all social channels relevant to your brand.

Crisis & Reputation It's in the Delivery

A carefully crafted reputation management program builds on your strengths, gets recognition for good deeds and creates a positive image.

We help clients build their reputation and defend them when under attack by negativity.

Community Involvement and Public Affairs Be Engaged

We identify goals and create plans for community involvement to maximize the impact of your resources, reach decision makers, and build allies and ambassadors for your company campaigns' and products.

We craft campaigns for charitable giving, corporate sponsorships, and participation in community activities and outreach.

Litigation Communications Beyond the Courtroom

In litigation communications the goal is to control the narrative. "No comment" won't get you very far in the court of public opinion.

An experienced communications team that manages the media during high profile litigation helps your legal team stay focused on the trial and preserves your reputation.

"Moss has had the privilege to work with Wragg & Casas for over seven years. Our relationship is built on a solid foundation of mutual respect and trust. Wragg & Casas is always proactive in meeting our business needs, approaching every situation with a positive attitude and pleasant demeanor.
